

Personal Survival Kit

- Should always be carried on your person
 - Must be light and small enough to fit in your pocket
 - Items should be multipurpose
 - Should contain items from four categories:
 - Shelter building aids—twine, dental floss, large garbage bags, space blanket, bug head net, etc.
 - Signal aids—mirror, whistle, foil, surveyor's flagging tape, flares, chemical lights, strobe light, etc.
 - Personal health needs—medication, water purification tablets, eye care, bouillon cubes, energy bar, bug repellent, tampons, etc.
 - Fire starter
 - Container should be waterproof and sturdy
-
- A line drawing of a survival kit container, possibly a duffel bag or a large box, lying on its side. The container is open, revealing various items inside. On the left, there's a rolled-up tent or a large piece of fabric. In the center, there's a box labeled 'FOOD' and another labeled 'MEDICAL'. To the right, there's a box labeled 'TOOL' and some other smaller items. The drawing is simple, with black outlines and some shading to indicate depth.

